

A CALL TO ACTION...

for the residents of Chatham-Avalon Park
to keep the high standards of the community by joining with their neighbors to . . .

- get a Park in Chatham
- fight illegal conversions
- extend CTA service on South Park
- control mosquitoes
- build tot lots for small children
- repair streets and curbs
- support local business
- make better schools
- rezone the area to prevent overcrowding
- cut overgrown weeds
- clean-up vacant lots
- develop recreation projects for young people and adults
- get new members
- organize a conservation commission
- promote our beautiful community
- DO ANYTHING TO MAKE THIS A BETTER
 PLACE IN WHICH TO LIVE AND WORK

All this, and more, can be done through

CHATHAM-AVALON PARK COMMUNITY COUNCIL

8011 Cottage Grove Avenue

24 HOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE
STANDARD 2-3262

Gaudette Heads
Chatham-Avalon
Civic Council

Formerly elected officers of the Christian-Social Community moved joint with its guest speaker at last week's annual meeting of the organization. Seated in front row, from left, Mrs. Jerry H. Davis, co-president; Mrs. Charlotte Lattin, secretary; Thomas Davidson, president; Dean Starnes, director of the Metropolitan Center for Neighborhood Development, who spoke; and Mrs. John Hall. At rear are first vice-presidents, Arthur Wooten, Henry Ray Jr., Mrs. Paul Whitman, Emerson Bagley, executive v. p., and Thomas

Teen Clashes

Chatham Council Fights Re-zoning

Protest Against Rezoning

Charles Lerner, 127 E. 82d st., was selected chairman of the coalition to prove the case, and his friend, Jack

Change Setup Of Civic Unit

His severe restrictions were gone soon, however. Loomis said, "to work as hard as you can at street lighting, sanitation, housing and other things and neighborhood im-

According to Joseph Viloria, 1000 N. Lincoln, St., owner president, the changes make more possible the all victory of the area to be represented by the council, he added.

"Ideally, the association should be conducting the two day neighborhood conference that will give every area a president in the council and will work with some good work in the council."

"The conditions detract from the beauty of our neighborhood," Williams said.

His severe restrictions were gone soon, however. Loomis said, "to work as hard as you can at street lighting, sanitation, housing and other things and neighborhood im-

The quiet is impressive, even here at 8:00 A.M. before we have breakfast. The morning comes late. Friday evening, when Michaela Furber, white-haired, gaunt, elegant, is interviewed by Edward K. Moore on the 10th Floor in Furber House, J. Chatham, resident for three years, Miss Jackson, now retired, offices of the Chatham-Arlene Community center, who stopped in to wish their neighbors well on the video interview. Landing six-time Georgia elections with the state at left: (standing) Thomas Chatham, 8414 Indiana; (sitting) Michaela Furber, 804 E. 10th St., associate vice-president; (sitting) Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, 8225 St. Anne, ex-chairman; Mrs. Johnnie Moore, 9017 Vassar.

The second superintendent, William Collins, suggested a weed control machine to Jones but didn't remember it until Aug. 5. Spraying of wooded hills in the 6th ward didn't start until 1941, he claimed. Collins:

THE COUNCIL — what is it?

The Preamble of the Constitution states our purpose is . . .

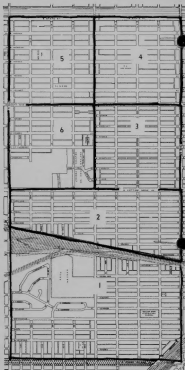

“ . . . to unite all the people of the community in a program to maintain and improve the area as a good place in which to live; to encourage neighbors of different backgrounds to live and work together; and to promote the aims outlined in its charter.”

The two-square mile area of the Council is divided into sub-areas to bring the Council close to the people and make it more efficient. Each sub-area elects its own officers and sends three elected representatives to the Steering Committee. The Council officers plus the representatives make up the Steering Committee and set the official policy for the entire Council.

Our strength is in the people. Everyone is welcome!

SUB-AREA MAP

Here is how the Council is divided. Find out the number of the area in which you live and call the office, Stewart 3-3242, for the name of your sub-area chairman.

THE 1958 OFFICERS

THOMAS A. GAUDETTE
President
EMERSON BADGLEY
Executive Vice-President
GLENN ALEXANDER
EMERY BIRD, JR.
THOMAS J. CURTIN
MRS. JERRY N. DORA
MRS. ALBERT MILLER
REV. WARREN STUBBS
ARTHUR WEISBERG
MRS. PAUL WELTMAN
Vice-President

MRS. EUGENE LACKNER
Secretary
LESTER ANGLIN
Treasurer
Steering Committee
HOWARD S. BALZEL
PRESCOTT A. BERRY
MRS. JOHN HALL
MRS. JUDITH KOROSOFF
CHARLES LOMAX
RITCHIE O'BANNION
JOHN THOMAS
MRS. JOSEPH VELMAS
MRS. KENNETH WILSON

AFFILIATED WITH

Association of Community Councils
Citizen's School Committee
Citizens of Greater Chicago

JOIN YOUR COUNCIL TODAY!

Now you have the story of what your neighbors are doing to make this a better place for you to live in. Why don't you pitch in? Join Today.

Name _____
Address _____
Phone _____

— $3 Family — $10 Sustaining — $25 Contributing

Make checks payable to
CHATHAM-AVALON PARK COMMUNITY COUNCIL
8011 Cottage Grove Avenue
Chicago 19, Illinois